Situated in Central Namibia, the cosmopolitan city of Windhoek serves as the capital of the country. It is home to an international airport and a plethora of restaurants, shops, entertainment venues and accommodation options. The city is clean, safe and well-organised, with a colonial legacy that is reflected in its many German eateries and shops, and the widespread use of the German language. Windhoek has an interesting mix of historical architecture and modern buildings, many of which are worth a look, including the Alte Feste an old fort, the 1896 Christuskirche Christ Church, and the more contemporary Supreme Court.

Hoanib Skeleton Coast Camp

The name “Skeleton Coast” conjures up romantic images of desolate beauty, and proudly remote Hoanib in the Kaokoveld does not disappoint. The dry bed of the Hoanib River supports a thin green ribbon of vegetation and the wild beaches of the Atlantic coast are within reach, with their noisy seal colonies and eerily quiet shipwreck remnants.

Eight large en-suite tents (including one family unit) and the main area provide shady viewpoints, while nature drives into the surrounding area reveal a wealth of desert-adapted wildlife. Desert-adapted lion and brown hyaena may also be glimpsed in this vast but far from lifeless landscape.

Need to know...

This is an active and physical expedition and participants should be in good health and reasonably fit to get the most out of the trip. Up to 80km may be covered per day on the bikes so being a competent rider is important. There is a back up vehicle and riders that need to may opt to travel certain sections by vehicle. The terrain includes rocky and sandy sections as well as some hilly areas. The ride is conducted as an expedition through this spectacular region and a comfortable pace is set to allow for maximum enjoyment of the landscape and wildlife. This is not a race or endurance event.

Children in the Wilderness

Anderson Expeditions has chosen to support Children in the Wilderness as our conservation partner on this expedition. We will be making a donation to CITW on behalf of each traveller that joins us on this trip.

Children in the Wilderness is a non-profit organisation supported by ecotourism company Wilderness Safaris, which aims to facilitate sustainable conservation through leadership development and education of rural children in Africa. Insight, care and commitment are required to conserve Africa's pristine wilderness and wildlife areas.

If we are to ensure that these places continue to exist – in this generation and those to come – we need the rural children of Africa to understand the importance of conservation and its relevance in their lives. Hence, our Children in the Wilderness programme: an environmental and life skills educational programme for children, focusing on the next generation of decision-makers; inspiring them to care for their natural heritage and to become the custodians of these areas in the future.

Namibia

Located in southwestern Africa, Namibia boasts a well-developed infrastructure, some of the best tourist facilities in Africa, and an impressive list of breathtaking natural wonders. Visitors can explore the capital of Windhoek and discover the lovely coastal town of Swakopmund boasting remnants of the country's German influence, reflected in the architecture, culture, cuisine and the annual Oktoberfest celebrations. To properly appreciate this extraordinary country, you will have to venture out of the cities to explore the remarkable natural landscapes Namibia has to offer. These include: the impressive Fish River Canyon; the vast Etosha National Park teeming with abundant wildlife, such as lions, desert-adapted elephants and the Hartmann's Mountain Zebra; the hauntingly beautiful Kalahari Desert; and of course the Namib Desert stretching for over 2000 km along the magnificent Atlantic Coast. Namibia is an ideal destination for travellers seeking an unforgettable African experience in a uniquely beautiful untamed wilderness.

Phill Steffny

Phill Steffny's love of guiding has enabled him to embark on a full-time career as a professional safari guide, where he is able to utilise his broad experience of Africa's prime wilderness areas to the fullest. Twelve years based at some of the finest safari lodges in southern Africa with andBeyond (formerly CCAfrica) have taken him from the humid subtropics of South Africa's Phinda Private Game Reserve, to Nxabega Camp in Botswana's Okavango Delta, back home to Ngala Private Game Reserve in the Timbavati area, and Kwandwe Private Game Reserve in the Eastern Cape. He acquired an in-depth knowledge of Africa's wildlife in these regions, and developed his particular passion for walking, tracking and photographic safaris.

Phill was a mentor throughout this time to newly qualified guides venturing into this exciting world. His patience and natural empathy for people has inspired many to follow in his footsteps, and has led him as far afield as Scandinavia, where he gave a series of presentations about guiding. True to form, he managed to squeeze in a birding trip to one of the spectacular fjord regions. His fluency in German is a delight for many of his European guests.

His commitment to each safari is paramount, and boundless enthusiasm and sense of humour ensures that every guest experiences the best that Africa has to offer, whether their special interests are photography, walking safaris, fishing, scuba diving or gorilla trekking.
